The Prevocational Medical Assurance Services (PMAS) is pleased to announce the Northern Territory Clinical Educator of the Year Award 2020. PMAS in conjunction with the Confederation of Postgraduate Medical Councils (CPMEC) is offering this award which recognises the contribution of a clinical educator working in the Northern Territory.

PMAS would firstly like to call for nominations and select a territory winner who will then be recognised as our nominee for the CPMEC National Clinical Educator of the Year Award.

The Territory Clinical Educator of the Year Award winner will be announced later in 2020.

All state/territory winners will be recognised and the national winner will be announced at the 25th Medical Education and Training Forum to be held in Auckland, NZ dates to be confirmed in 2021. 2020 Forum has been postponed due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

Nominations for this award can only be made by junior doctors.

The recipient of this award will be a clinical educator who has worked ‘above and beyond’ the call of duty in more than two of the following criteria: (please include any contributions during the COVID-19 measures in this submission)

Note: A minimum of two criteria must be from criteria 1-6.

1. Made a significant contribution to the teaching of junior doctors; and/or
2. Evidence of developing innovative programs and approaches for junior doctors; and/or
3. Made a significant contribution to mentoring and the provision of career advice to junior doctors; and/or
4. Made a significant contribution to promoting and advocating the well-being of junior doctors; and/or
5. Evidence of advocating for junior doctor education and training in the workplace and beyond, which could include contributions to the PMC or equivalent; and/or
6. Evidence of improving education opportunities in rural health (particularly in the NT); and/or
7. Evidence of improving access to quality healthcare for Aboriginal communities; and/or
8. Contribution to medical research within Australia (particularly in the NT); and/or
9. Demonstrates commitment to the NT; and/or
10. Any other relevant information you wish to include.

Nominations for this award can only be made by junior doctors.

Applications are now open and will be received until COB on Wednesday 26th August 2020

For information about the Northern Territory JMO and/or Clinical Educator Award nomination process and application for nomination please contact the Prevocational Medical Assurance Services office.

Email: METC.Doh@nt.gov.au or Telephone: (08) 8999 2832

---

1 A clinical educator is defined for the purposes of this award as a person who is involved in the teaching, supervision, mentoring, guidance and support of prevocational trainees. The focus is on their direct contributions to create a positive learning environment for junior doctors. The nominee could be a clinician who is an educational or term supervisor, a medical education officer, or any other person who made a very significant contribution to JMO education and training.